NUMB. 1697

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 26. 1740.

9: 1695.

On an Eminent Planetary Club.

E E. in his Chair the Hackley Hero plac'd,
With Patriots round; with Furs and Freemen grac'd: Boasting (from whence he sprung) the Crabtree's Pow'r;
And tho' not quite so sharp,
is full as four.
See round their Champion the learn'd Circle sit,

Nothing entire—Half-Statesmen, and Half-Wits:
Half-Friends, Half-Foes, the various, medley Ring;
Add just Half-loyal to their Lawful King.

You flatter—but will cease to wonder soon—
Look on their Sign—you see 'tis Half a Moon:

Once Arbiter of War, and Judge of Peace;
Her Beams now faint—a Crescent in Decrease!

In her gilt Frame, extremely dark and dull;
And always filling—never will be full—

Ask you the Reason why her Light decays?
The wicked Crown has stole away her Rays:

In Tears bemoan'd her darken'd, dwindling Face, By G—d's Eye; a Mayor without a Mace.

The Planet's and the Mourner's Fate the same,
Neither to reach the Fullness of their Fame.

Without Offence, their Names we then may fix,
And call the Junco London's LUNATICKS.

And sure the Muse's Freedom none can blame, Whence this their Sign alone that gives the Name.

Ab then forgive the giddy, shifting Train, Since 'tis their Planet guides their Heart and Brain!

Whole darling Arguments are Bats and Blows;
The City's solid Reasons—Ayes and Noes:

Who now for War, for Peace next Moment press;
And steady only in Unsteadiness—

True to no Party—by no Duty bound,
But whirling, like their Moon, for ever round!

For King, by turns, and Country—off for neither,
Who seldom wear one Face a Month together.

With their lov'd Orb her favorite Sons agree,
And just and vary full as oft as she.

Can any Mortal then believe it strange A Half-Moon Club should wish to see a CHANGE?

Kept long in Darkness, that the fretful Crowd,
Should strive to shine again, and break the Cloud;

How would they smile could J—s his Beams renew,
In his last Quarter could they Br—k view;

Once more if St J—n could regain his Skies!
And W—e set,—never again to rise!

While they want nothing, which their Star adorns,
No Quality or Gift—except her Horns.

The Difference here, and here alone, is small,
That some kind Dames affirm, 'tis none at all.

* Cornua Luna.

dler's at the Newgate Front-Gate, and directly behind the King on Horseback,

That Tickets are there Sold Cheap.

He likewise divides them into Shares of all Sorts, in 500 different ones, if required, after a Manner peculiar to himself, so much approved of in former Lotteries; as by it Adventurers are equally safe, and have a much better Chance for a Prize, than in purchasing whole Tickets. In Gratitude for the great Encouragement his Office has met with in all former Lotteries, he is determin'd, tho' at double the Expense of others (by having a Clerk at the Place of Drawing) to render his Register the most Correct.
Notwithstanding which, Adventurers may there enter their Numbers of Tickets at the common Price, and Loss sent them to any Place whatever.

Business of all Sorts relating to the Lottery is there transacted with great Care, Letters punctually an-swer'd, and Schemes given Gratis.

To the Customers of my late Uncle, at Slaughter's Coffee-House on the Pav'd Stones in St. Martin's Lane.

Gentlemen,

MY Uncle dying last August, I propos'd, as he intended and desired I should, to carry on the Business as usual; and had the greater Reason to hope for the Continuance of his Customers, as I have lived with him for near twenty Years, and managed the Business for him ever since the Death of my Husband Toney; and did not suppose but that I should have continued in the same House, my Uncle having been Tenant thereof almost forty Years, and especially as I was for six Weeks after my Uncle's Death suffered to stay in the House: But to my Surprise had a Message sent me only ten Days before Michaelmas, to acquaint me, I should not be accepted as a Tenant, but must quit the House at Quarter-day, or stay at my Peril; and was accordingly constrained to leave it in this sudden Manner, to make Room for the other Person that I presume has hir'd it; who,
'tis imagin'd, could not think it possible for me to take another House in the Neighbourhood, till such Time as he could settle himself in my Business. But my Case being known, I am now fortunately accommodated with another large and more airy House, which I have open'd by the Name of SEVEN TEN'S COFFEE-HOUSE, next Door to the Post-Office on the Pavement, where I humbly intreat the Continuance of your Favour; and hope every Thing will be found quite agreeable, and the Usage such as will merit Encouragement: Which to deserve shall be the continual Study of,

Gentlemen,

Your Most Obedient, Humble Servant.

MARY WARNER.

N. B. That the House being large, and I having convenient Rooms separate from the Coffee-Room, I

The only short and infallible Cure
For that reigning Disease the SCURVY, and all Scorbuch Humors, who arrived to the highest and most inveterate Degree, or of ever so many Years standing, and that without any sensible In-cursion or the least Purging, which by an inveterate Disease is generally avoided, although always found rather to increase and confirm the Scurvy than cure it.

By the so much famed and most pleasant Chymical DROPS:
WHICH, without the least Trouble, Confinement, or any Disorder whatever, do in one Week at the true Cause of the Scurvy, and entirely destroy it, and all Scorbuch Humours and Effects, Root and Branch, so as never to return again, as many Thousands of both Sexes have experienced, and as all who take them in 3 Days time will be convinced, for they almost instantly alter the morbid State of the juices, purify the Blood, sweeten all the Fluids, cleanse them from Impurities, and directly clear the whole Habit from all Spots, Blisters, black and blue Marks, Itchings, foul Eruptions, or Breakings out, Weakness of the Limbs, languid Heaviness of the whole Body, wandering Pains, Weakness of the Back, and all the vast Variety of Symptoms by which the Scurvy imitates and often lies concealed under the Appearance of the Rheumatism, and many other Distempers.
And for strengthening the Stomach, immediately creating a good Appetite, causing a regular and easy Digestion of Food, and curing all windy Effects and Disorders of the first Passages (wherein prevails Head-ache, Vapours and other Indispositions) two Doses of any other Medicine upon Earth can compare with them, inasmuch that besides infallibly curing the Scurvy in all its Shapes and Appearances, they also assuredly and immediately cure the Greenick in Virginia, Worms of all Kinds in young or old, and almost all other Chronick Diseases, (which are chiefly occasioned by Indigestion and flatulent Crudities in the Stomach and Bowels) and thereby prevent Fevers, Agues, and other acute Illnesses.
They are wonderfully Cordial and Restorative, strengthen and enliven the whole Machine, and as soon as taken, make the Patient pleasantly Light, brisk and Vigorous to administration, and are good for all Sorts of Persons, to preserve as well as to procure a sound and healthy State of Body.
But the great Reputation these famous and pleasant Chymical Drops have universally gain'd among Persons of Eminence, for their suddenly and infallibly curing the Scurvy and all Scorbuch Humours, and other Chronick Diseases, in such an easy and agreeable Manner, have occasioned many to imitate them, under the same, and others under other Names: Be careful therefore not to be deceiv'd; but be sure to have the Right, which by the Author's special Appointment, are to be had only at the Goldsmiths, at the Two Blue Posts, in Haydon-Yard, in the Mid-dlessex, at 2 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions.
